him a gentleman of the old school and one whose memory will long last and always will be revered.

Academy for the remainder of the week, with a matinee on Saturday.

Next Wednesday night Mr. Lewis Morrison and his powerful dramatic company will produce their elaborate and original dramatic production of "Faust." The place will be mounted with magnificent scenic embellishments.

There are many electrical surprises and mechanical novelties, making it as a whole one of the most elaborate and brilliant productions ever witnessed. Mr. Morrison's physique is perfectly fitted to Meplisto; his face is handsome and flexible, as he depicts Meplisto.

Meplisto may be said to be a revelation—it certainly is wonderful. The production here will be complete in every detail.

A dramatic happening of more than ordinary interest is the coming engagement of that extremely popular and ever successful romantic play, "The Prisoner of Zenda." The engagement is announced at the Academy for next Thursday.

To-night and to-morrow will give the last three opportunities to witness "At Cripple Creek," the delightful melodrama which has served to crowd the Bijou in spite of bad weather and all other untoward circumstances.

The best evidence of its success is the wild appreciation with which it is received at every performance.

What the management styles "The Continuous Laughing show 'Zig Zag Alley' will be the attraction at the Bijou all next week with the usual matinee.

"Zig Zag Alley" is said to be an original trick farce by James Gorman, full of big laughing effects, including a wonderful reproduction of a cyclone, with its tow-ty-ty effects, the underground station, with its mass of trick scenery, the board walk at Atlantic City, the mechanical dummy, the funny automobile, the human phonograph, the trick mule and hansom cab and a host of other novelties too numerous to mention. Original music, pretty girls and handsome costumes.

This production has a cast which includes thirty-five people, and is said to be the best trick comedy, with better comic relief, than any other of the first run, more original effects, and the strongest singing chorus of any similar organization playing farce comedy.

DEATHS OF A DAY. (By Associated Press.) STAMFORD, CONN., February 19.—Frank T. Wyckoff died today, aged fifty-six years, at his residence here. He was president of the Wyckoff, Rippe and Crockett Company, of New York, and Portsmouth, Va.

NORTH, TEXAS.—George E. Living, who attempted to form the first cattle trust, died on the street here today. He was widely known.

BETTER THAN BOTH
DON'T YOU THINK SO?

While it may not be so cold to-day as it was yesterday and the day before, it will be cold enough to wear an overcoat and to keep the doors and windows closed. There will be some skating at all the places provided for such sport, and it is said by those who tell us about the weather in advance that a warm rain is due here to-morrow. That means that the skating will be broken up, and so it behooves all who have skates or who can borrow them to go out to the Reservoir or Lakeside or Forest Hill to-day. The lakes were crowded yesterday and last night, and they will probably be well supplied with skaters to-day.

Farmer Evans says yesterday he could see no immediate relief for those who were suffering from empty coal bins, unless it was to take a run around the block or up to the top of the City Hall tower or three times.

"There's one thing about it," he said, "and that is, the weather is just what we need here in about three months, and we can look at the pictures of summer girls on our walls and feel warm. We must expect cold weather once in a while. This winter, as a whole, has been one of the mildest on record, and it is laughable when I think about the ground-hog. If he's out in this cold he has my sympathy. Let's all think about Easter flowers and forget the cold."

Yesterday was one of the coldest of this winter. The thermometer at The Times-Dispatch office registered as follows yesterday: At 9 A. M., 11 degrees; 12 M., 20; 3 P. M., 25; 6 P. M., 21; 9 P. M., 12; midnight, 25, which went to prove that it was colder yesterday morning at 9 o'clock than it was at midnight last night.

With this precipitation the weather sharpens rain is likely to follow.

RIGID EXAMINATION. Fredericksburg Officers Are Visited by Captain Gray Bossieux. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Feb. 19.—Captain Gray Bossieux, of Richmond, adjutant of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment, was here last night and conducted the official examination of Captain P. H. Rogers, First Lieutenant Thomas M. Larkin and Second Lieutenant A. G. Billingsley, the recently elected commissioned officers of Company L, Seventeenth Virginia Regiment (Washington Guards), of this city. The examination was a most rigid one and lasted late into the night. The officers, however, were well up in the manual of arms, and they no doubt made a good percentage. The result will not be known for some days.

Mr. C. L. Conway, the engineer on the ill-fated steamer Olive, which was overtaken in a storm on the Choptank River near Edenton, N. C., when so many people were drowned, is a son-in-law of Mr. James T. Layton, of this city, having married Miss Edie Layton. Mr. Conway was one of the fortunate ones who made his escape in a life boat after a narrow experience.

The monthly meeting of the City School Board was held last night. The following members were present: James H. Capers (chairman), W. M. Turpin, Chas. Hutzler, R. Burton, Dr. F. W. Stiff, Dr. H. M. Taylor, R. E. Shins, F. C. Ebel, W. P. ex. superintendent. The superintendent's report shows total enrollment, January 30th, 11,109, with working roll, 9,839.

The following pupils in the High Schools received a year's ticket to Rosemary Library as honor for standing highest in their classes: Clara Minton Maude Taylor, Annie Hamman, Laura Macon, Louisa Fitzgerald, Brockenshaw, Woodward, Susie Hie, Sadie Heister.

Two following were elected to reserve list: Colored—Louisa Forrester, Lena L. Jasper, Mattie V. Cephas, Wilmetta C. Smith, Amelia P. Wiggins, Beretta Norrell, Gertrude V. Baceaux.

An offer was received from Mr. N. M. Emery, registrar of Leigh University, of a scholarship in that institution in the classical or Latin scientific course to such pupil in Richmond High School as may be considered most worthy.

This makes the third scholarship open to pupils of the High School, namely, Richmond College and the University of Virginia.

EX-GOVERNOR TYLER ON A VISIT HERE. He Will Not Discuss Politics, but Talks About Other Subjects.

Former Governor J. Hoge Tyler came down from Radford last night, and when he walked into the lobby of Murphy's Hotel he was accorded something of an ovation. He was at once the center of a group of admiring friends.

Major Tyler was looking the very picture of health. His train came in a little late. Soon after reaching the hotel the ex-Governor was called upon by a Times-Dispatch representative.

"What have you to say in reference to politics?" the Major was asked.

"We are having mighty cold weather," he answered.

"Are you going to run for the Senate again?"

"People out in the Southwest are getting along tolerably well, thank you; how are you all in Richmond?"

The former Governor would not talk politics. His lips were sealed.

Seriously speaking, he said, "I came here by invitation of Lee Camp to present to-night at the presentation of the portrait of General James L. Kem-1, who was a gallant soldier, once a Governor of the Commonwealth, and a man who was beloved by all who knew him a gentleman of the old school and one whose memory will long last and always will be revered."

At the Theatres.

"Foxy Grandpa" is a hodge-podge of nonsense, with musical interruptions. It was presented at the Academy last night by Joseph Hart, Carrie De Mar and a company of capable people, including a chorus of good-looking girls.

Joseph Hart as Foxy Grandpa was a "gay old boy." The part is just what a comedian can make of it, and Joseph Hart got a good deal out of it. George Mack and Bobby Barry, the "grandsons," were the life of the performance. They both possess good voices, which they use to advantage throughout the piece. Each is as nimble as a cat, and it seems impossible for either of them to stand still for a moment. It did one good to follow their movements.

Carrie De Mar was also quite sprightly, and her vivacity seemed to infect the others. John McVeach was very clever as Jack Richman, and with Carrie De Mar did a little burlesque business that made quite a hit.

The piece is replete with patchy music. Among the numbers are "Military Chorus," "Story of Two Bad Boys," "Polly, Polly," "The Country Club," "The Bathing Lesson," "My Clementine" and "In Not at Liberty to Tell." Despite the fact that last night was probably the coldest of the winter, a good-sized audience witnessed the performance and were pleased with the performance.

"Foxy Grandpa" will be the bill at the
